Instructions

In small groups, participants must create an awareness campaign against gender inequalities. Here are some ideas the leader can give them, but they can suggest their own:

- ▶ What to do when witnessing gender discrimination
- ▶ Girls and boys can do the same sports
- ▶ Stop stereotypes

They should create a slogan, decide who they want to see their campaign, create posters and think about how to promote their campaign.

At the end, have each group present their campaign.

They can display the posters in their meeting space or ask them to be displayed in their school or around their local area.
